Findings and Recommendations

Allegation A: Abuse of Authority – Detective Joseph Nicosia entered § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn.

Allegation B: Abuse of Authority – Detective Joseph Nicosia searched § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn.

Allegation C: Abuse of Authority – Officers pointed their firearms at § 87(2)(b)

It is settled that on October 8th, 2020, at about 6 a.m., Detective Nicosia and multiple other MOS executed no-knock search warrant § 87(2)(b) [BR 2] at § 87(2)(b) in Brooklyn. Detective Nicosia applied for the warrant upon probable cause for believing that a firearm and other items would be recovered from § 87(2)(b) or the person of § 87(2)(b). The Supreme Court of New York, Kings County issued the warrant on § 87(2)(b). During the course of the warrant execution, officers pointed their firearms at § 87(2)(b) acknowledged during his CCRB interview [BR 3] that officers subsequently presented him with the search warrant. The 75th Precinct Command log (pg. 7) for October 8th, 2020 [BR 4] indicates that Police Officer Mordecai Austrie issued a summons to § 87(2)(b) for § 87(2)(b), and arrested two juveniles at the location for unknown offenses.

NYS CPL § 690 authorizes designated police officers, within a designated time period, to search a residence, person, or personal property pursuant to a valid search warrant. Executing officers may use as much force as is necessary to gain compliance, short of deadly physical force (which is permitted only when there is a credible and immediate threat to the life of a member of service or third party). New York State Criminal Procedure Law § 690 (§ 690.05 – 690.55) [BR 5].

Under NYPD PG § 221.01, force may be used when it is reasonable to ensure the safety of a member of the service or a third person, or otherwise protect life, or when it is reasonable to place a person in custody or prevent escape from custody. The decision to display or draw a firearm should be based on an articulable belief that the potential for serious physical injury is present. When a member of service determines that the potential for serious physical injury is no longer present, he must holster the firearm as soon as practicable. NYPD Patrol Guide § 221.01 [BR 6].

§ 87(2)(g)

It is therefore recommended that allegations A and B be exonerated.

§ 87(2)(g)

§ 87(2)(g) [REDACTED]. Therefore, it is recommended that allegation C be exonerated.
