Case Summary

On November 9, 2017, § 87(2)(b) filed this complaint with the CCRB via telephone on behalf of herself, her boyfriend, § 87(2)(b)'s friend, § 87(2)(b)'s girlfriend, § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b)'s friend, § 87(2)(b).

On November 8, 2017, at approximately 2:35 p.m., an unidentified officer allegedly told § 87(2)(b) to “fuck off (Allegation A: Discourtesy, alleged victim uncooperative),” “roughed up” § 87(2)(b) (Allegation B: Force, alleged victim uncooperative), and threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) (Allegations C and D: Abuse of Authority, alleged victim uncooperative). § 87(2)(b) asked for the officer’s name, and the officer said it would be printed on the police report, but § 87(2)(b) was unable to obtain a copy of this report (Allegation E: Abuse of Authority, alleged victim uncooperative).

At approximately 5:30 p.m., PO Jack Dagnese of Narcotics Borough Staten Island allegedly followed § 87(2)(b) from § 87(2)(b)'s home at § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island and pulled him over opposite of 151 Port Richmond Avenue (Allegation F: Abuse of Authority, unsubstantiated). PO Dagnese allegedly frisked § 87(2)(b) searched § 87(2)(b)'s pockets, and frisked § 87(2)(b) (Allegations G, H, and I: Abuse of Authority, unsubstantiated). PO Dagnese asked § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) if they had any drugs (Allegations J, K, and L: Abuse of Authority, unsubstantiated). PO Dagnese searched § 87(2)(b)'s vehicle (Allegation M: Abuse of Authority, unsubstantiated) and allegedly called an unidentified female officer to the scene to search § 87(2)(b)'s pockets (Allegation N: Abuse of Authority, unsubstantiated). No one was arrested or summonsed at § 87(2)(b) or 151 Port Richmond Avenue.

There is no video footage in this case. § 87(2)(g)

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation (A) Discourtesy: At § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island, an officer spoke discourteously to § 87(2)(b).

Allegation (B) Force: At § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island, an officer used physical force against § 87(2)(b).

Allegation (C) Abuse of Authority: At § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island, an officer threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b).

Allegation (D) Abuse of Authority: At § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island, an officer threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b).

Allegation (E) Abuse of Authority: At § 87(2)(b) in Staten Island, an officer refused to provide his name and shield number to § 87(2)(b).

In her telephone statement on November 8, 2017, § 87(2)(b) (Board Review 01) stated that she was in her home at § 87(2)(b) when someone named § 87(2)(b) who claimed to be the property owner, broke in through a window. § 87(2)(b) bit § 87(2)(b) when he entered her home because she was scared. § 87(2)(b) believed she had lawfully rented the apartment from someone else, who had showed her a fraudulent bill of deeds. § 87(2)(b) told § 87(2)(b) that he thought she was an intruder on his property. § 87(2)(b) personally called an officer, and an unidentified officer in plainclothes arrived at the scene. § 87(2)(b) conversed with the officer in the doorway of her residence. § 87(2)(b) called 911 to have a police report generated by uniformed officers, but the plainclothes officer cancelled her job over his radio because it was already being handled. § 87(2)(b) told the officer to stop cancelling her jobs, and the officer allegedly told her to “fuck off.” The officer allegedly told § 87(2)(b) that he was going to be arrested for trespassing and also allegedly threatened to arrest § 87(2)(b) for biting § 87(2)(b) if she did not leave the apartment. § 87(2)(b) asked the officer for his name, and the officer told her that she could get his name from the police report at the stationhouse. However, § 87(2)(b) was not given a copy of this report and was told that she was only entitled to a report number. No one was arrested or issued a summons.

§ 87(2)(b) noted that he was “roughed up” by an officer, but he provided no additional context or details. Attempts were made to clarify this allegation with § 87(2)(b) but § 87(2)(b) was unresponsive. In their telephone statements, § 87(2)(b) (Board Review 03) and § 87(2)(b) (Board Review 04) stated that they arrived at § 87(2)(b) via car while the officers were present, but § 87(2)(b) noted that they remained in the car and were not in a position to see or hear the allegations that took place at § 87(2)(b)’s residence. Once the officers left the scene, § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) exited the car and entered § 87(2)(b)’s residence, where they remained until they were picked up by § 87(2)(b).

During her intake call, § 87(2)(b) scheduled an interview for November 16, 2017 at Councilwoman Debi Rose’s district office. On November 16, 2017, the undersigned received a voicemail from § 87(2)(b) who cancelled her interview § 87(2)(b) and asked to reschedule. On November 20, 2017, a call was made to § 87(2)(b) who rescheduled her interview for November 28, 2017, which she missed her scheduled interview without providing advanced notice. Contact attempts to § 87(2)(b) were exhausted, and she did not cooperate in rescheduling her interview.

On December 8, 2017, the undersigned received a call from § 87(2)(b) who scheduled an interview for himself, § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) for December 11, 2017, which they missed without providing advanced notice. On December 19, 2017, the undersigned received a call from § 87(2)(b) who inquired as to whether this complaint pertained to a lawsuit. The undersigned explained to § 87(2)(b) that the CCRB cannot assist him in the pursuit of a lawsuit, and the call disengaged before § 87(2)(b)’s interview could be rescheduled. Contact attempts to § 87(2)(b) were exhausted, and he was not cooperative in rescheduling his interview.

On April 12, 2018, a search of the NYC Department of Correction database revealed no record of § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b) being incarcerated. § 87(2)(g) § 87(2)(b) it is recommended that Allegations A, B, C, D, and E be closed as alleged victim uncooperative.

Allegation (F) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese stopped the vehicle in which § 87(2)(b) was an occupant.

Allegation (G) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese frisked § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (H) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese searched § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (I) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese frisked § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (J) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese questioned § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (K) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese questioned § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (L) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese questioned § 87(2)(b)

Allegation (M) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese searched the vehicle in which § 87(2)(b) was an occupant.

Allegation (N) Abuse of Authority: At 151 Port Richmond Avenue in Staten Island, Police Officer Jack Dagnese searched § 87(2)(b)

§ 87(2)(b) (Board Review 05) stated that he went to § 87(2)(b) to pick up § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) who had asked him to give them a ride to a store. § 87(2)(b) was unaware of the incident involving police that had occurred at § 87(2)(b) prior to his arrival. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) entered § 87(2)(b)'s car, and § 87(2)(b). An unmarked grey van followed § 87(2)(b)'s car from § 87(2)(b) to Port Richmond Avenue and pulled § 87(2)(b) over opposite of 151 Port Richmond Avenue, approximately § 87(2)(b) away from § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) stated that the sun was shining at the time. An officer told § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) to exit the vehicle, and they complied and were taken to the rear of § 87(2)(b)'s vehicle. PO Dagnese allegedly frisked § 87(2)(b)'s entire body and reached into his pants and jacket pockets, in which § 87(2)(b) was carrying his car keys, lighter, and cigarettes. PO Dagnese also allegedly frisked § 87(2)(b)'s entire body and reached into his pants pockets. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) were then handcuffed. An officer § 87(2)(b) did not recall which) told § 87(2)(b) that he was pulled over because he was in a "drug location." No officer told § 87(2)(b) that he was pulled over for driving without his headlights or mentioned his headlights at all. PO Dagnese asked § 87(2)(b) what he was doing and if he had any drugs. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) said they had no drugs, and § 87(2)(b) said he had pills in his glove compartment, but he did not say what the pills were for (these pills are for erectile dysfunction and are legally prescribed to § 87(2)(b) § 87(2)(b) had no knowledge of § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b) smoking marijuana earlier that day, and he did not notice any odor of marijuana emanating from their persons. He did not believe § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b) told the officers that they had been smoking marijuana, but he noted that he could not hear what they were saying to the officers. PO Dagnese searched the interior of § 87(2)(b)'s vehicle, but § 87(2)(b) did not see exactly where he searched. PO Dagnese found § 87(2)(b)'s pills and believed they were Vicodin, and § 87(2)(b) told him that they were for § 87(2)(b). PO Dagnese also claimed to have found a small amount of marijuana in the same pill bottle. § 87(2)(b) denied being in possession of marijuana. The officers did not mention finding marijuana anywhere else, nor did they mention finding anything on the floor of the vehicle. PO Dagnese and his partner called a female officer to the scene to search § 87(2)(b). Approximately ten to 15 minutes after § 87(2)(b) was pulled over, a marked police vehicle containing an unidentified uniformed male officer and an unidentified uniformed female officer arrived at the scene, and the female officer allegedly searched § 87(2)(b)'s pockets. § 87(2)(b) did not see where else the female officer touched § 87(2)(b). The officers found no contraband on § 87(2)(b)s, § 87(2)(b)s, or § 87(2)(b)s persons. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) were each released from the scene without summonses.

§ 87(2)(b) both § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) stated that § 87(2)(b) was pulled over at dusk. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) stated that PO Dagnese asked them and § 87(2)(b) if they had any drugs, and § 87(2)(b) stated that they told the officers that they had no drugs. § 87(2)(b) also stated that PO Dagnese asked them what they were doing at § 87(2)(b). § 87(2)(b) denied that PO Dagnese entered his pockets. § 87(2)(b) stated that an officer told her that she smelled liked marijuana, and that the female officer searched her jacket and sweater pockets, in which she was carrying receipts and business cards. § 87(2)(b) stated that § 87(2)(b) was pulled over for approximately 30 to 35 minutes.

PO Dagnese (Board Review 06) was unaware of any of the events that took place at § 87(2)(b). PO Dagnese is not familiar with § 87(2)(b) but he noted that the vicinity of § 87(2)(b) is a drug-prone location. He stated that he pulled § 87(2)(b) over at approximately 5:30 p.m. for driving after sundown with his headlights off. At the time, the sun was setting and it was getting dark outside. His intent in pulling § 87(2)(b) over was to ask him why he was driving with his headlights off. § 87(2)(b) rolled down his window, at which point PO Dagnese smelled the odor of raw (unburnt) marijuana emanating from the vehicle. PO Dagnese did not smell any marijuana before § 87(2)(b) rolled down his window. PO Dagnese looked down through § 87(2)(b)'s window and saw many loose marijuana flakes scattered throughout the floor of the vehicle near the front and the back seats. The odor of raw marijuana was strong, and PO Dagnese believed there was more marijuana inside the vehicle. PO Dagnese told § 87(2)(b) that he was pulled over for driving without his headlights, and § 87(2)(b) said he did not realize this and apologized. PO Dagnese asked § 87(2)(b) and his passengers whether they had any marijuana in the vehicle. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) stated to PO Dagnese that they had recently been smoking marijuana, but they did not specify where they smoked. PO Dagnese stated to § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) that he smelled raw marijuana, and he asked if there was marijuana in the car. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) did not deny having marijuana, but PO Dagnese did not recall whether they said they had marijuana. PO Dagnese asked § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) to exit the vehicle, and they complied and were brought to the rear of the vehicle. PO Dagnese did not recall whether or not he frisked § 87(2)(b) or § 87(2)(b). PO Dagnese did not recall entering § 87(2)(b)s, § 87(2)(b)s, or § 87(2)(b)s pockets. No female officer was called to the scene to frisk or search § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) was never frisked or searched. When asked whether frisking § 87(2)(b) would have been acceptable, PO Dagnese replied, "No, we don't frisk for drugs." PO Dagnese smelled a strong odor of raw marijuana emanating from § 87(2)(b)'s body, and he asked her whether she had any marijuana. PO Dagnese did not recall how she responded. PO Dagnese searched the vehicle for marijuana because there was marijuana in plain view and there was an admission of guilt by § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b). The vehicle still smelled heavily of marijuana after its occupants were removed, and this odor did not diminish after the occupants were removed, particularly in the back seat. PO Dagnese searched all open areas of the vehicle, the glove compartment, and the center console. PO Dagnese did not find any marijuana in the pill bottle and determined that the pills were legally prescribed to § 87(2)(b). The flakes on the floor looked and smelled like marijuana, but PO Dagnese did not remove any of them from the vehicle because they were too small to pick up. PO Dagnese warned and admonished § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) about the marijuana and concluded his investigation. § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) were released without summonses. PO Dagnese released § 87(2)(b) with a warning and admonishment for his headlights because the headlights were functional, he was an “older guy,” and, “There was a good chance that he just forgot to put his headlights on.” In addition, narcotics officers are discouraged from writing traffic summonses. PO Dagnese does not carry a summons book. No one was arrested for the marijuana because the offense was merely a violation, which did not merit an arrest. PO Dagnese did not issue them any summonses because, “They don’t really want us doing heavy enforcement for marijuana-related offenses, so I tend to give people a break for violations of marijuana.”

PO Dagnese’s memo book (Board Review 07) identifies Det. Jason Greenberg as his partner and states that § 87(2)(b) was pulled over from 3:30 p.m. to 5:55 p.m. (PO Dagnese stated that the 3:30 p.m. timestamp was an error and that he meant to write 5:30 p.m.) The Tactical Plan for Narcotics Borough Staten Island (Board Review 08) also identifies Det. Greenberg as PO Dagnese’s partner. Det. Greenberg’s memo book (Board Review 09) identifies PO Dagnese as his partner, but it notes that Det. Greenberg was at the scene of an unrelated arrest at 5:30 p.m. Det. Greenberg (Board Review 10) had no recollection of the events that took place at § 87(2)(b) or 151 Port Richmond Avenue, and his memo book made no mention of the stop and search of § 87(2)(b)’s vehicle. He did not recall changing partners that day, and neither his nor PO Dagnese’s memo books note any change in partners. PO Dagnese’s memo book makes no mention of the arrest that appears in Det. Greenberg’s memo book.

The 121st Precinct Roll Call (Board Review 11) identifies three female officers who were working during Tour 3 of November 8, 2017: PO Nicole Latona, PO Kelsey Rocchio, and PO Tracey Rooney. PO Rocchio was working at the Telephone Switchboard Operator at the 121st Precinct stationhouse, and PO Rooney began her tour at 6:35 p.m., after the end of the incident. PO Latona (Board Review 12) was assigned to Patrol Sector AB, and she had no recollection of what occurred at 151 Port Richmond Avenue. Her memo book (Board Review 13) has no entries regarding the incident in question. PO Latona did not recall what she did between 5:16 p.m., when her sergeant signed her memo book, and 5:45 p.m., the time of her next entry.

According to People v. Hollman (79 N.Y.2d 181, 1992), an officer cannot ask accusatory questions without founded suspicion of criminality. According to People v. Smith (66 A.D.3d 514, 2009), the odor of marijuana emanating from a vehicle establishes probable cause to search the vehicle and its occupants. See Board Review 14.

Civilian and Officer CCRB Histories

- This is the first CCRB complaint to which § 87(2)(b) and § 87(2)(b) have been parties (Board Review 15).
- § 87(2)(b) has been party to one additional CCRB complaint and has been named as a victim in one additional CCRB allegation (Board Review 15).
  - § 87(2)(b)
- PO Jack Dagnese has been a member-of-service for seven years and has been a subject in seven additional CCRB cases and 21 additional allegations, of which one was substantiated (Board Review 16). § 87(2)(g)
  - 201505084 involved a substantiated frisk allegation against PO Dagnese and another officer. The Board recommended formalized training and the NYPD imposed formalized training. In this case, PO Dagnese cited an odor of marijuana and his observation of loose marijuana flakes on the floor as a justification for a vehicle search. The vehicle's occupants were frisked and searched by PO Dagnese and another officer, and no additional marijuana was found. The vehicle search and searches of persons were unsubstantiated.
  - 201304821 involved an unsubstantiated vehicle search allegation against PO Dagnese, who cited his observation of loose marijuana flakes on the floor as a justification for a vehicle search. According to the civilians, there was marijuana in an opaque container in the car, but the container was not in plain sight. PO Dagnese, however, said the marijuana container was translucent and in plain view. PO Dagnese was the only officer who described observing the flakes, and no officer said the vehicle smelled of marijuana. The vehicle search was closed as unsubstantiated.
  - In 201707718, PO Dagnese smelled "raw" marijuana in a vehicle and ordered its occupants out of the vehicle. When they exited, PO Dagnese saw loose marijuana flakes in the side compartment. PO Dagnese searched the car. He smelled the odor of marijuana on a backpack, but no marijuana was found in the car. The civilians were frisked and searched and were charged for marijuana the officers found in a nearby trash compactor, but all charges were dropped. This case is currently under investigation.
