Case Summary

On December 19, 2016, § 87(2)(b) filed his complaint at the 40th Precinct stationhouse. The complaint was forwarded to the CCRB, where it was received on December 21, 2016.

At approximately 10:30 PM on May 31, 2016, § 87(2)(b) was driving northbound on Bruckner Boulevard in the Bronx. § 87(2)(b) was pulled over at the intersection of East 149th Street and Bruckner Boulevard by Police Officer Niazul Haque, of the 40th Precinct. As PO Haque approached the vehicle, he allegedly stated to § 87(2)(b) “Give me your fucking license and registration.” § 87(2)(b) asked what the problem was, and PO Haque stated, “Didn’t you fucking listen to me?” § 87(2)(b) provided his license to PO Haque, but was unable to locate the registration or insurance for the vehicle because he was driving his friend’s vehicle. PO Haque stated, “Don’t you listen to the law? I am the fucking law.” § 87(2)(b) asked PO Haque to calm down, and told him there was no need to be swearing. In response, PO Haque stated, “Didn’t you fucking listen to me?” (Allegation A). At some point during the stop, PO Haque stated to § 87(2)(b) “Don’t you listen, you colored fuck?” or, “Don’t you listen, you color fucked?” (Allegation B). § 87(2)(b) was not sure which of the two statements PO Haque used. § 87(2)(b) requested that PO Haque call a supervisor to the scene. PO Haque stated, “I’m not fucking getting anyone,” (Allegation A, continued). PO Haque returned to his vehicle while § 87(2)(b) waited in his.

After approximately one hour passed, PO Haque returned to § 87(2)(b) vehicle. PO Haque issued § 87(2)(b) three summons for speeding, not having insurance, and not having a registered vehicle.

Findings and Recommendations

Allegation A—Discourtesy: Police Officer Niazul Haque spoke discourteously to § 87(2)(b)

Allegation B—Offensive Language: Police Officer Niazul Haque made remarks to § 87(2)(b) based on his race.

In his testimony to the CCRB, § 87(2)(b) alleged that while he was pulled over by PO Haque, several discourtesies were used against him. § 87(2)(b) alleged that PO Haque stated, “Give me your fucking license and registration,” “Didn’t you fucking listen to me?” and “Don’t you listen to the law? I am the fucking law.” When § 87(2)(b) asked for a supervisor, PO Haque allegedly stated to him, “I’m not fucking getting anyone.”

§ 87(2)(b) also alleged that PO Haque used offensive language during the incident. Although § 87(2)(b) could not recall the exact moment that PO Haque used offensive language against him, § 87(2)(b) alleged that PO Haque stated, “Don’t you listen, you colored fuck?” or, “Don’t you listen, you color fucked?” § 87(2)(b) was not sure what phrasing PO Haque used, but alleged that PO Haque used one of the statements. § 87(2)(b) interpreted statements as racist (Board Review 01).

Although in his phone statement § 87(2)(b) did not allege that PO Haque asked him, “Didn’t you fucking listen?” the allegations in § 87(2)(b) phone statement and sworn statement were generally consistent (Board Review 07).

In his testimony to the CCRB, PO Haque stated that he did not use any discourteous language while interacting with § 87(2)(b) PO Haque denied having said, “Give me your fucking license and registration,” “Didn’t you fucking listen to me?” and “Don’t you listen to the law? I am the fucking law.” PO Haque stated that at no point did § 87(2)(b) request a supervisor. PO Haque also denied ever having said, “I’m not fucking getting anyone,” to § 87(2)(b) in response to a request for a supervisor.

PO Haque also stated that he did not make any statement based on § 87(2)(b) race. PO Haque denied stating, “Don’t you listen, you colored fuck?” or, “Don’t you listen, you color fucked?” (Board Review 08).

§ 87(2)(g)

Therefore, it is recommended that Allegation A and Allegation B be closed as unsubstantiated.
